1:00 - 5:30 p.m.

Join us for a unique opportunity to learn about some of the innovative applied research being conducted at the University of Rochester, Rochester Institute of Technology, and Cornell University. The University Technology Showcase allows industry professionals an exclusive chance to see a snapshot of work in optics, imaging, and photonics; energy and materials; biomedical technology; and IT being conducted by three of New York's leading universities. You will be able to discuss with the principal investigators how their work may benefit your company and explore ways for future collaboration and technology transfer. This is the only event of the year where industry can see research from all three of these universities in one location. The Showcase is free and open to the public. This year's event will include a panel session of leaders in industry, government and academia followed by the poster session.
