Paul Ballentine, Ph.D.

Deputy Director, CEIS

Director, Intelligent Imaging Initiative

(585) 273-2642

paul.ballentine@rochester.edu

Paul Ballentine has more than 30 years of experience in engineering, research, strategy, and business development through leadership positions with Motorola, Carrier Corporation, and Jenoptik AG. He joined the CEIS team in 2010 and has been instrumental in the creation of the Intelligent Imaging Initiative at the University of Rochester, leveraging the region's unmatched legacy in optics and imaging with emerging technologies in artificial intelligence.

Ballentine's areas of specialty include technology-driven economic development, optics, photonics, imaging, and semiconductors. He also co-founded Mosaic Microsystems and CVC Products. Ballentine holds a Ph.D. in electrical engineering from the University of Rochester, a Master's degree in mechanical engineering from MIT and a B.S in physics from Siena College.